

PRIVACY POLICY

Western Security Systems Ltd (hereinafter referred to as “WSS”) is committed to complying with its legal obligations relating to confidentiality. Information collected by WSS from this site (including personal information) will not be transferred except as expressly stated in this Policy and consented to by the individual concerned.

WSS will not collect personal information without informing the individual concerned. The information collected from this site will be used by WSS to process orders and/or requests for information, services and to develop this site and WSS's services for the future. WSS may also pass on information to visitors to this site about services that may be of interest to them.

Where personal information is collected on this site, WSS will give the individual concerned the option to indicate whether or not they wish their personal information to be used in this way. If an individual subsequently decides that they no longer wish their personal information to be used in this way, they should write to Western Security Systems Ltd, South Glade, Gwaelod-y-Garth, Cardiff, CF15 9TS providing their full name, address and email address.

WSS may share or transfer non-personal information and statistics collected from this site with connected group companies or third parties. Personal information will not be shared or transferred without the individual's consent.

A “cookie” is an element of data that a website can send to a browser which may then get stored on a computer. The cookie can be used to identify a repeat user to the site that placed the cookie on the computer. Cookies also can be used to track the user's movements from page to page, or within a single page of a website. WSS may use cookies to enhance the navigation and functionality of this site, to securely verify identity, and to personalise aspects of a visitor's experience on this site. The visitor does not have control over cookies but may be able to set their browser to notify them when a cookie is being placed on their computer.

An individual may be able to set their browser software to not to accept cookies at all. However, this may affect the individual's ability to log into certain areas and their ability to use certain tools and contents on this site.

WSS may from time to time put arrangements in place to permit visitors to this site to access sites of other organisations. Each organisation should have their own privacy policy. Individuals are advised to read the privacy policies of all organisations' sites they visit. WSS has no control over other organisations' web sites and when individuals click through to other sites, they leave the area controlled by WSS. Therefore, WSS cannot accept any responsibility for matters arising from third parties, their sites or their use of information.

WSS may change this Policy from time to time. Any changes will be posted on this site and will take effect immediately.

WSS complies with the Data Protection Act 1998 and has appointed a Data Protection Officer. If an individual has any concerns about the use of their personal information under the Data Protection Act or any queries about privacy, they should write to the Data Protection Officer at the above address.

This Policy was last updated on 6th January 2010.
